What We Do...

Each week we check in with each other's lives over some tea and popcorn.

We offer each other support and encourage personal growth and confidence.

We discuss our personal interests and run informal workshops on issues that are of concern to us.

We advocate feminism and give young women a voice.

We do not accept the status quo and we challenge social norms.

We discuss taboo subjects and encourage critical thinking on controversial topics.

We like to chill, relax and take timeout.

We network with other groups including our national network.

We have lots and lots of Fun!

How We Do It...

We work from a model of youth work called the BeLonG To Model also known as Critical Social Education.

Our approach is through a feminist lens and conscious of gender and sexuality.

We engage in the planning and design of our Education for Life programme.

Everything we do is in equal partnership with our youth workers.

Peer education is at the heart of what we do and we deliver our own workshops that reflect or interests are issues we are concerned with..

We represent LBT women nationally and internationally by giving inputs at events and conferences.

We invite guest speakers to draw on their expertise.

We apply for our own funding so we can do extra things, like going on trips or running our own projects and campaigns.
